Member of the Royal Town Planning Institute

Jack joined us as a Graduate Planner from the University of the West of England. With his great enthusiasm and strong problem-solving skills, he quickly became a key member of the Bristol team.

Originally from Eastbourne, Jack found his passion for planning through education, culminating in two planning related university degrees. He may be starting out his professional journey, however, his determination and passion for the field is clear to see and we can't wait to watch him thrive.

In his free time, Jack is a keen Brighton and Hove Albion F.C fan who enjoys watching a multitude of different sports including Golf, American Football, and Formula One. On the weekends you will either find him at live music events, playing 6-a-side with friends, or by the trees at a golf course trying to find his ball.
